PART IV

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Council, and Bills published before introduction in that Council.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2499L.C.—28th October, 1936.—With reference to the footnote at the end of the Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Bill, 1936, published with notification No. 2471L.C., dated the 16th October, 1936, in Part IV of the Calcutta Gazette of the 22nd October, 1936, it is hereby notified for general information that Rai Bahadur Satyendra Kumar Das, M.L.C., has subsequently signed the said Report subject to the following minute of dissent.

K. Ali Afzal, Asst. Secy.,
for Secy. to the Bengal Legis. Council (on leave).

Minute of dissent by Rai Bahadur Satyendra Kumar Das, M.L.C., on the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Bill, 1936.

This Bill has been framed with a view to providing a means of securing proper assessment on non-agricultural lands. It has not at all taken into consideration the principle of moderate assessment, which would be apparent from the important declaration made in the second paragraph of Regulation VII of 1822, which is the basis of this Bill. The declaration therein runs as follows:—

"Whereas a moderate assessment being equally conducive to the true interests of the Government and to the well-being of its subjects, it is the wish and intention of Government that in revising the existing settlement, the efforts of the Revenue-Officers should be chiefly directed not to any general and extensive enhancement of the jama."

This policy of moderate assessment has been completely abandoned by the sub-clauses (c) and (d) of clause 4.

Under the above two sub-clauses, the Revenue-Officer shall take into consideration, in estimating a fair and equitable rent—

(c) the market value of land immediately before the order under section 3 was made;

(d) the rent which would be payable if the rate were fixed at four per cent. of such value.

This Bill will apply specially to urban areas, where the majority of houses are residential, as it excludes non-agricultural lands occupied by persons, whose primary means of livelihood is agriculture, from the purview of this Act. The effect of these two sub-clauses will be simply ruinous specially to residential tenants in municipal towns. The market value of land, being always of a fluctuating nature, cannot and should not be any criterion or guide for the assessment of rent. It depends upon several factors, specially the existing rent of the holding. People may purchase or otherwise acquire such lands in towns with a right of renewal in the honest belief that Government will not enhance the rent of such holdings beyond reasonable limits on the basis of the existing rent, in proportion to the previous rate of enhancement, if any, as they naturally believe that what is true of a private landlord is also true of the Government. This belief mainly accounts for the market value of such land, otherwise no reasonable man would purchase such land if there is any prospect of an inordinate enhancement of rent assessed on the basis of the value, which he had paid. As soon as there is an excessive enhancement, the market value is bound to fall to an abnormal extent. Would the Government then reduce the rent? Then again if the rent is reduced, there might be a rise again in the market value. The result would be a vicious circle.

People with small incomes are living in the houses they had built on such lands from the time of their ancestors or occasionally let them out on hire. To charge such people with any percentage of the market value of land as rent would not only cause inconceivable hardship to them but in the long run it would be impossible for them to retain the property. Recently, the Collector of Dacca has issued notices upon such tenants enhancing their rent, and in case they do not execute any kabuliyat at the enhanced rate, they would be ejected. The enhancement is made on the basis of half to one and half per cent. of the market value, the result being an inordinate enhancement, in some cases coming up to a little more than or about 40 times the existing rent, e.g., from Rs. 4 to Rs. 163, from Re. 1-5 to Rs. 56-8, from Rs. 14-4 to Rs. 496-11, and so forth. If one and half per cent. of the market value enhances the rent to such absurd limits, any comment on the enhancement at four per cent. of the market value is needless.

Next although sub-clauses (c) and (d) are matters for consideration along with other sub-clauses of clause 4, it is extremely doubtful whether in estimating a fair, and equitable rent, the Revenue-Officer would be in a position to dispassionately consider the other sub-clauses in preference to the almost mandatory provisions of the sub-clauses (c) and (d).

Reference may be made to the provisions of section 104A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, which deal with khas mahal agricultural tenancies, where the Revenue-Officer, when required to settle fair rents has to start with the existing rents, and maintain or enhance or reduce them, as the case may be, keeping in view the principles of the sections specified in the proviso.

Section 104H(6) of the said Act enacts that the Civil Courts shall be guided by the rents of the tenures or holdings of the same class for settling a fair rent and not the market value. Section 27 of the said Act provides that the existing rent should be presumed to be fair and equitable, until the contrary is proved. All these provisions engender a feeling of security among tenants and induce them to make improvements in their holdings. Existing rents, therefore, in my opinion, should be the basis of an enhancement; and not the market value. Assessment of rent at any percentage, not to speak of four per cent. of the market would result in such an excessive and inordinate enhancement that very few tenants would be able to pay, the outcome of which will be ejectment. It may be observed that in the khas mahal lands situated in towns, the owners are required to pay municipal taxes and other charges over and above the ground rent. Such charges with a ground rent at four per cent. of the market value would in most cases be equivalent to and sometimes exceed the gross rental containing buildings, at which the holding may be reasonably expected to let. The tenant would not only lose the land but also the structures for his inability to pay the absurd rent.

Reference may also be made to the letter of the Hon'ble Board of Revenue at Calcutta where it enunciated the principle for renewing leases of homestead lands in the town of Dacca. It stated that the lease should be renewed on liberal terms, that householders should not be placed in a position of less security than that of similar householders occupying private zemindari lands, and that it is not the desire of Government to make a profit out of the necessities of the householders on the renewal of their leases. Following the above rule laid down by the Board, the then Commissioner of the Dacca Division is said to have given an assurance at the time of granting Wari leases that there was no fear of an undue increase. The aforesaid principle enunciated by the Board was subsequently embodied and endorsed by the Government of India in its Resolution, dated the 7th October, 1895.

In the province of Bihar, the rule that is followed in regard to the renewal of leases of similar lands, is that at each renewal, the enhancement shall not exceed a certain percentage of rent paid for the previous term, not exceeding double the previous rent. Market value was not considered by the Bihar Government as a basis of assessment. It is, therefore, meet and proper that the above two sub-clauses (c) and (d) of clause 4 should be deleted or in the alternative, a proviso should be added to clause 4 to the effect that a fair and equitable rent, in case of land held by a tenant immediately under Government, which is or has been let out for erecting buildings for purposes of residence or used as a residential house, shall in no case exceed fifty per cent. of the existing rent. Such a proviso is absolutely necessary for the protection of the residential tenants holding lands by erecting buildings.

Clause 13.—This clause provides for a suit in the Civil Court by a tenant aggrieved by an entry in the assessment roll and specifies certain grounds on which only a suit can be instituted. It rules out the right of the tenant to contest in the Civil Court the assessment on the ground that it is unfair, inequitable and excessive or that the market value of land, if clauses 4(c) and 4(d) are retained, has been wrongly determined. Assessment of rent of agricultural lands in a khas mahal is mainly based upon the prevailing rate or upon the several considerations mentioned in section 104A of the Bengal Tenancy Act. As there are a very large number of agricultural khas mahal tenants in this province, and as the rent of similar lands of a particular locality is known and as a decision about the settlement of rent of such land is not at all complex, the tenant has not been given the right to contest such an assessment of agricultural lands. But in regard to the assessment of non-agricultural lands, there is no prevailing rate, and various complicated questions of fact and law would arise, which are properly triable by a Civil Court; the principle of assessment of non-agricultural lands being altogether different from that of agricultural lands. On account of the complex nature of the questions that are likely to arise in the case of non-agricultural lands, it is just and proper that a tenant aggrieved by the rent settled by the Revenue-Officers, the fairness or otherwise of such rent should be determined by Judicial Officers, who are accustomed to sift evidence, to interpret documents and are conversant with the intricacies of Civil law. The complications involved in the determination of market value are not also inconsiderable. I cannot, therefore, endorse the curtailment of the rights of tenants on the pleas of convenience and quickness, specially when Government is the landlord and the Revenue-Officer the agent. In my opinion, a new sub-clause should be inserted in clause 13(3) to the effect that such a suit might be instituted on the grounds stated above by a tenant aggrieved by an entry and desirous of contesting the assessment on such grounds.

COVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Irrigation Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 18-I.—5th November 1936.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 44 of the Bengal Development Act, 1935 (Bengal Act XVI of 1935), the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules for carrying out the purposes of the said Act:—

Short Title.

1. These rules may be called the Bengal Development Rules, 1936.

Definitions.

2. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "assessment list" means a statement referred to in section 13;

(2) "bhagchasi" means any person who under the system generally known as "adhi", "barga" or "bhag" cultivates the land of another on condition of delivering a share of the produce to that person;

(3) "bhagchasi tenant" means a bhagchasi who is a tenant as defined in clause (17) of section 3 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885;

(4) "charge" means the notified area or part of a notified area for which an Estimating Officer is appointed by the Local Government;

(5) "Chief Estimating Officer" means an officer appointed by the Local Government for a notified area through whom the estimates prepared by the Estimating Officers under sub-section (1) of section 8 are to be forwarded to the Board of Revenue under the provisions of rules 23 and 24;

(6) "class" means a class of land in the list of classes drawn up by the Chief Estimating Officer under sub-rule (4) of rule 28;

(7) "Damodar Canal area" means the area described in Irrigation Department notification No. 13-I., dated 1st August 1936, as modified for the time being by notifications subsequently issued;

(8) "Estimating Officer" means an officer appointed by the Local Government for a notified area or any part thereof to prepare under sub-section (1) of section 8 an estimate of the average increase in the outturn of the produce from agricultural lands;

(9) "grade" means a grade of land in the list of grades drawn up by the Chief Estimating Officer under sub-rule (1) of rule 4;

(10) "improvement" means an improvement that has resulted or is, in the opinion of the Local Government, likely to result from an improvement work as defined in the Act;

(11) "outturn" means the outturn of paddy, both grain and straw, from any agricultural land;

(12) "section" means a section of the Act;

(13) "selected area" means an area, outside a notified area, selected by a Chief Estimating Officer under sub-rule (1) of rule 4;

(14) "sort" means a sort of land in the list of sorts drawn up by the Chief Estimating Officer under rule 5;

(15) "the Act" means the Bengal Development Act, 1935;

(16) "tract" means a tract as determined by the Chief Estimating Officer under rule 27;

(17) "valuation scale" means a scale showing, in annas or as percentages, the relative productive capacity, as estimated by the Chief Estimating Officer, of land of different sorts in different grades and in different zones;

(18) "zone" means a zone in the list of zones drawn up by the Chief Estimating Officer under sub-rule (1) of rule 7.

Preparation of estimate of increased outturn (section 8).

3. An Estimating Officer shall work under the control and supervision of the Chief Estimating Officer appointed for the notified area of which the charge of such Estimating Officer forms a part.

4. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer shall draw up a list of grades into which agricultural lands in the notified area, and, if he thinks fit, in any area that he may select outside it, shall be divided according to their soils.

(2) He shall assign to each such grade a number or numbers in a valuation scale according to his estimate of the relative productivity of its soil, on the assumption that all the grades enjoy the same rainfall.

5. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer shall draw up a list of sorts into which the lands in each grade in the notified area, and in any selected area, shall be classified.

(2) He shall assign to each sort in each grade a number or numbers in the valuation scale according to his estimate of its relative productivity, on the assumption that all the sorts enjoy the same rainfall as the grades under sub-rule (2) of rule 4.

(3) When the Chief Estimating Officer draws up a list of such sorts for any area where there has already been an improvement, he shall take account of those factors only that influenced productivity before such improvement.

6. In making an estimate of the relative productivity of any sort of land under rule 5 the Chief Estimating Officer may take into consideration (1) such factors as (a) the depth of the soil, its texture and its capacity for retaining moisture and (b) the extent to which the relation of land to adjoining lands influences its chances of receiving water, with or without fertilising matter in suspension, from higher lands or of its being adequately drained, and (2) any classification of agricultural lands that is customary in the area or any part of it.

7. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer may draw up a list of zones into which the notified area and any selected areas shall be divided according to any differences which in his opinion exist in their normal rainfall and which he considers to be such as materially to affect the average productivity of land in such zones.

(2) He shall assign to each zone a figure or figures by the application of which the number or numbers assigned in the valuation scale to any sort of land in any grade may be modified.

8. An Estimating Officer shall decide what grades and what sorts of agricultural lands occur in each village within his charge.

9. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer shall make provisional estimates, for each sort of land within each grade and in each zone in the notified area, of the average outturn of paddy in terms of grain (a) over a period of fifteen years or longer before the improvement, on the assumption that the standard of cultivation was no higher than might, in his opinion, have reasonably been expected from cultivators of ordinary skill in the area when cultivating such sort of land, and (b) after the improvement, on the assumption that full advantage has been or will be taken of any facilities for irrigation that have been or will be afforded by an improvement work and that in other respects the standard or cultivation has been or will be no lower than might, in his opinion, reasonably be expected from such cultivators.

(2) He shall make similar estimates regarding the outturn of paddy straw.

10. In preparing an estimate under clause (a) of sub-rule (1) of rule 9 of the average outturn the Chief Estimating Officer shall take into account any variations in the outturn from land of any grade or sort that have resulted from variations in the amount or distribution of the rainfall during the years covered by the estimate.

11. In preparing an estimate of the average outturn for any local area in which the outturn has been in any year materially reduced by any natural calamity, the Chief Estimating Officer shall exclude from consideration the data appertaining to that year unless, in his opinion, the improvement is likely to be a safeguard against the occurrence or recurrence of such a calamity in the notified area.

12. In preparing an estimate of the average outturn the Chief Estimating Officer may, by application of the valuation scale or otherwise, base an estimate of the outturn from land of any sort at any place within a notified or selected area, for any year or series of years, upon known or estimated figures for the outturn from land of the same or another sort in the same or another grade in the same or another zone in a notified or selected area.

13. In preparing an estimate of the average outturn a Chief Estimating Officer may take into account any factors which in his opinion are relevant and in particular—

(i) any figures based on crop cutting experiments by any department of Government;

(ii) any estimate or statement that he may find in any publication or record of Government regarding the outturn of any kind of crop from any kind of agricultural land at any place in a notified or selected area, whether before or after the improvement;

(iii) any evidence as to the outturn from, or the relative value of, any kind of agricultural land at any place in a notified or selected area, that may be available from a kabuliat, lease, register, book of account, or other document or in a decree or order passed by a Civil or Revenue Court;

(iv) statements or opinions written or verbal of experts or other persons who in his opinion have special knowledge;

(v) any generally received opinion as to the relative productivity of land in different zones or of different grades or sorts.

Publication of preliminary estimates and hearing of objections [section 8(1)].

14. When a Chief Estimating Officer has made the provisional estimates under rule 9, each Estimating Officer in the notified area shall, by a notice published in the manner specified in rule 17, announce

(a) such of the provisional estimates as are relevant to conditions in his charge or any part thereof and (b) an estimate of the average increase in the outturn of paddy, in terms of grain and straw, respectively, from each sort of land within each grade in such charge.

15. A notice under rule 14 shall specify the area to which the notice relates, and shall fix a time and a place at which the Estimating Officer will receive and consider objections under sub-section (1) of section 8.

16. The time fixed under rule 15 for receiving and considering objections shall be not less than ten days after the date when the notice is published in the Collector's office.

17. A notice under rule 14 shall be published in the following manner:—

(a) copies shall be hung up in the offices of the Collector of the district and the District Judge and in the offices of every Subdivisional Officer, Munsif or Sub-Registrar within whose jurisdiction the notified area or any part thereof is situated; and

(b) the fact that such notice has been thus published shall be announced by beat of drum, or in such other manner as the Collector may direct, in such places in that area as the Collector may think fit.

18. At the time and the place fixed in the notice under rule 14 the Estimating Officer shall receive all objections under sub-section (1) of section 8 which may be presented to him.

19. Every objection under sub-section (1) of section 8 shall be made by means of a properly stamped petition.

20. The Estimating Officer shall not be bound to consider any objection under sub-section (1) of section 8 which is presented after the time fixed in the notice under rule 14.

21. (1) On the date fixed in the notice under rule 14 or on any subsequent date to which he may adjourn the proceedings the Estimating Officer shall hear arguments relating to the objections which have been received by him before the expiry of the time fixed in the notice under rule 14, and shall make a memorandum of any evidence which he thinks fit to take in connection with an objection.

(2) When an Estimating Officer has heard argument on any point raised in or in connection with any objection, it shall not be necessary for him to hear another argument on the same point or on a point which is, in his opinion, substantially of the same nature, in connection with any other objection that has been presented at the same place.

22. Arguments heard and evidence taken by an Estimating Officer under rule 21 shall be heard or taken in public.

23. (1) After considering the objections the Estimating Officer shall forward them and the memorandum of any evidence that he may have taken to the Chief Estimating Officer, with his remarks and with his estimates of the average increase in the outturn of paddy, in terms of grain and straw, respectively, from each sort of land within each grade in his charge.

(2) In making estimates of the average increase in the outturn the Estimating Officer shall follow the principles of the provisions of rules 9 to 13.

24. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer, after considering the objections and any recommendations made by the Estimating Officer and after such further inquiry, if any, as he considers necessary, shall forward the estimates received by him from the Estimating Officers to the Board of Revenue, for action under sub-section (2) of section 8, together with his remarks.

(2) At the time of forwarding a report under sub-section (2) of section 8 to the Local Government the Board of Revenue shall also forward the remarks of the Chief Estimating Officer referred to in sub-rule (1).

Estimate of net increase in profits and of net value of estimated increase in outturn [section 10(3)].

25. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer shall make an estimate of the average cost, before and after the improvement, of cultivating paddy on land of each sort within each grade in the notified area, on the assumption that it has been or will be cultivated, in accordance with any standards that are, or will be, in his opinion, reasonable for the cultivation of land of such sort, before or after the improvement, among cultivators of ordinary skill, by labourers paid at such rates as he considers to be prevalent or reasonable for the period for which he makes the estimate.

(2) When the Chief Estimating Officer makes an estimate of the cost of cultivation after the improvement, he shall assume that full advantage has been or will be taken of any facilities for irrigation that have been or will be afforded by an improvement work and shall take into account any saving in labour or material that may have been or is likely to be made possible by such improvement and any change in the standard of cultivation that is, in his opinion, likely to follow such improvement.

(3) The Chief Estimating Officer shall not include the improvement levy as part of the cost of cultivation.

(4) The Chief Estimating Officer shall make separate estimates for land of any sort that has been or may be irrigated by lift after the improvement.

(5) Rent paid for land shall be deemed to be part of the cost of cultivating such land, but the Chief Estimating Officer may base his estimate on the rates or rent generally paid by occupancy ryots for different sorts of land in different parts of the notified area.

26. The Chief Estimating Officer shall make, for each sort of land within the notified area, estimates of the average cost of harvesting and thrashing the paddy yielded by it before and after the improvement.

27. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer shall divide the notified area into tracts according to the relative advantages which in his opinion the cultivators within each tract enjoy as regards disposal of their produce, and, in so doing, he shall have regard to such factors as the proximity of markets, their nature and their accessibility.

(2) He shall fix for each such tract a figure representing the average cost of disposing of the produce in a market.

28. (1) The Chief Estimating Officer shall make for each sort of land within each grade and each zone in the notified area estimates of the gross value of the outturn before and after the improvement, by multiplying the estimated outturn of paddy, in grain and straw respectively, by the price fixed for it by the Local Government under section 9.

(2) He shall deduct from the estimates thus made of the gross value of the outturn of each sort of land in each tract before and after the improvement.

(a) the cost of cultivation as estimated by him under rule 25;

(b) the cost of harvesting and thrashing as estimated by him under rule 26; and

(c) the cost of disposing of the produce in a market as determined by him under rule 27 for such tract.

(3) The difference between the net estimates thus obtained for each such sort of land shall be his estimate of the net value of the estimated increase in the outturn of such sort.

(4) The Chief Estimating Officer shall draw up, in such manner as he may think fit, a list of classes of land on the basis of his estimate of the net value of the estimated increase in the outturn from each such sort of land, and shall assign to the same class, all those sorts for which he estimates the net value of the estimated increase in the outturn to be the same, whether they have been assigned to the same or different grades or to the same or different zones in the valuation scale.

(5) He shall forward to the Local Government the list of classes prepared under sub-rule (4) and the estimates made under sub-rules (1), (2) and (3).

Persons deemed to be occupiers of land for the purposes of section 10(1).

29. The following classes of persons shall be deemed to be occupiers of land for the purposes of sub-section (1) of section 10, in respect of all their agricultural land except that which is let, or sublet, by them to others or which has otherwise passed out of their khas possession :—

(a) (i) proprietors,

(ii) tenure-holders,

(iii) raiyats,

(iv) under-raiyats,

(b) bhagchasi tenants,

(c) service tenants,

(d) dakhalkars, or squatters, who are in cultivating possession of land, and

(e) any person to whom land has been transferred on a usufructuary mortgage.

Explanation.—The terms "proprietors," "tenure-holders," "raiyats" and "under-raiyats" have the same meanings as in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Proportion of improvement levy payable by bhagchasis [sectin 10(5).]

30. In the Damodar Canal area—

(1) a bhagchasi tenant shall be liable to pay a part of the improvement levy that bears the same proportion to the total improvement levy assessed on the land as the share of the produce which he is liable to deliver to his landlord bears to the total produce: and his landlord shall be liable to pay the remainder of the improvement levy;

(2) any other bhagchasi shall not be liable to pay any part of the improvement levy.

Preparation of Assessment List (section 13).

31. The Chief Estimating Officer shall decide whether any special advantages or disadvantages shall be recognised in a notified area as affecting materially the productive capacity of individual plots of any sort and shall assign to each such recognised advantage or disadvantage a figure or figures by the application of which the assignment of a plot to a class may be modified.

32. (1) When an improvement work includes means of irrigation, the Chief Estimating Officer shall classify by kinds the facilities for irrigation which existed, or exist, in a notified area before such improvement work, according to the degree to which they enabled, or enable, land to be irrigated for the cultivation of paddy,

(A) in years of normal rainfall (a) before or during the transplantation season and (b) during the season of flowering and grain formation, and

(B) in years of drought throughout the cultivation season;

and shall assign to each kind a figure or figures by the application of which the assignment, to a class, of land of any sort, enjoying irrigation of that kind, may be modified.

33. (1) An Estimating Officer shall decide to what grade and to what sort each plot in his charge belongs, and shall determine to what class it shall be assigned.

(2) If he is satisfied that a special advantage or disadvantage recognised under rule 31 by the Chief Estimating Officer attaches to an individual plot or that it enjoys facilities for irrigation of any kind classified under rule 32, he shall take into account such advantage, disadvantage or facility when he determines to what class such plot shall be assigned.

(3) Any decision by an Estimating Officer under this rule shall be subject to modification by the Collector.

34. The Estimating Officer shall forward to the Collector a note of his decisions under rule 33, and the Collector, after accepting or modifying such decisions, shall determine at what rate, as declared by the Local Government under sub-section (1) of section 10, the improvement levy shall be imposed on each plot.

35. (1) There shall be a separate assessment list, in form A, annexed to these rules in respect of the agricultural lands in each mauza.

(2) An assessment list shall be in separate parts in respect of persons liable to pay improvement levy (a) annually and (b) otherwise.

(3) In the Damodar Canal area, the rate shown in column 7 of the assessment list shall be the rate fixed for the class of land under sub-section (1) of section 10 or five rupees eight annas per acre, as provided in clause (b) of sub-section (6) of section 10, whichever is less.

(4) Fractions of annas shall be neglected when entries are made in column 8.

(5) A separate entry shall be made in columns 5, 6 and 7 in respect of any land held by a bhagchasi tenant.

(6) Subject to sub-rule (5), a separate entry shall be made in columns 5, 6 and 7, for each assessee, of the total area of all lands which are assigned to the same class.

36. (1) The Collector shall issue a notice calling upon persons who may wish to claim to be assessed as bhagchasi tenants or landlords of bhagchasis to apply to him by a fixed date.

(2) No person shall be assessed as a bhagchasi tenant unless he is proved to be such, to the satisfaction of the Collector, by the production of an entry in a record-of-rights published after the 21st February, 1929, or of a document in which his landlord expressly admits him to be a tenant or of an order of the Civil Court holding him to be such.

37. An assessment list shall be signed by the Collector, or by an officer authorised by him generally or specially, and published in the manner specified in rule 17 for publication of a notice under rule 14.

Notice of demand under section 14.

38. (1) There shall be a separate notice of demand under section 14 in respect of the land held by the assessee in each mauza.

(2) Such notice shall show, in respect of such land, the total areas assessed in each class.

(3) Such notice shall show the area of any land occupied by the assessee as a bhagchasi tenant or a bhagchasi landlord and the name of the bhagchasi landlord or the bhagchasi tenant concerned.

(4) Such notice shall be in form B annexed to these rules and may be signed by any officer authorised by the Collector.

39. A notice of demand under section 14 may be served in any of the following ways:—

(a) a copy may be tendered or delivered to the assessee by or in the presence of the officer who has signed it and such officer shall record on the original notice a note that this has been done, or

(b) a copy may be served in the manner laid down in rule 179 of the Bengal Practice and Procedure Manual.

Modification of assessment list under section 15.

40. The Collector may by general or special order appoint an officer or officers to receive or inquire into representations made under sub-section (1) of section 15 by persons whose names are included in an assessment list.

41. (1) An officer appointed under rule 40 may, by a written order giving the reason, reject summarily any representation made under sub-section (1) of section 15.

(2) Such order shall be subject to confirmation by the Collector.

42. A claim by any person that his name should be substituted for or added to the name of any assessee in respect of any assessment shall be rejected if such assessee does not admit the claim to be justified.

43. An officer appointed under rule 40 may cause an inquiry into a representation to be made by any other officer appointed under that rule who is subordinate to him.

44. (1) When an officer appointed under rule 40 has inquired into a representation he shall submit a report, with his recommendations, to the Collector who shall pass orders thereon.

(2) Any modification which the Collector orders to be made in an assessment list shall be initialled and dated by him or by an officer authorised generally or specially by him.

45. The republication under sub-section (1) of section 15 of the assessment list shall be made in the manner specified in clause (a) of rule 17 for publication of a notice under rule 14.

46. A revised notice of demand shall be in form B annexed to these rules but shall be marked "modified under section 15."

Addition to or alteration in assessment list under section 16.

47. If, during a period fixed by the Local Government under section 9 and after the publication of an assessment list under section 13, the Collector is satisfied that any entry in such list should be altered owing to any error that has been detected or owing to a change of occupier by succession, bequest, sale, mortgage, gift or lease or by order of a Court or in any other manner or that any land, in respect of which an improvement levy has not been imposed, has been brought under, or become fit for, cultivation, he may after such inquiry as he thinks fit alter such entry or add to the list the name of the person liable to pay the improvement levy in respect of such land at the rate determined by the Collector.

48. Any alteration or addition made under rule 47 or in accordance with sub-section (2) of section 16 shall be initialled and dated in the manner specified in sub-section (2) of rule 44.

Copies of assessment list (section 19).

49. Copies of entries in an assessment list shall be made available in the manner laid down in rules 286-297B of the Bengal Records Manual, 1917, on payment of the fees prescribed therein.

Abatement and Remission (section 20).

50. If the Executive Engineer in charge of any canal which is an improvement work is of opinion that the outturn is deficient over any considerable area owing to a failure to supply water from such canal in sufficient quantity or at the proper time, he shall make a report to the Collector.

51. When the Collector receives a report under rule 50 or has reason otherwise to believe that the outturn is deficient over any considerable area, he shall make or cause to be made a local enquiry as to the extent of any deficiency.

52. (1) Any person, who considers that the outturn of any land, in respect of which he is liable to pay improvement levy, is so deficient as to justify abatement or remission of the levy, may apply by a petition to the Collector for such abatement or remission.

(2) If the Collector does not, for a reason which he shall record in writing, summarily dismiss such petition, he shall make or cause to be made a local inquiry as to the extent of any deficiency.

53. No remission or abatement shall ordinarily be granted as a result of a petition under rule 52 if the Collector is satisfied that the paddy on the land concerned was reaped before, or within fifteen days after, the presentation of the petition, unless an inquiry under rule 51 or rule 52, in respect of the outturn of such land has been completed before the crop was cut.

54. (1) If as a result of an inquiry made under rule 51 or rule 52 the Collector considers that there has been or will be any serious deficiency in the outturn of any land, he shall decide what has been or is likely to be the actual outturn of such land per acre.

(2) If it appears that such deficiency in outturn was due to any neglect on the part of the occupier or to his failure to cultivate such land in accordance with the standard, which in the opinion of the Chief Estimating Officer under rule 25, is reasonable for the cultivation of land of the sort to which such land belongs, the Collector shall decide summarily what would have been the probable outturn if the assessee had not been neglectful or had cultivated the land in accordance with such standard.

Explanation.—Failure to take full advantage of any facilities for irrigation that have been afforded by an improvement work shall be deemed to be neglect.

55. When the Collector has decided the actual outturn or the probable outturn under rule 54, he shall calculate the figure by which such outturn per acre exceeds or falls short of the estimate, as approved by the Local Government, of the average outturn, before the improvement, of land of that class. If the figure exceeds such estimate the Collector shall determine, as far as may be in the manner laid down in rules 28 and 33, a hypothetical rate of improvement levy (a) which might have been imposed on the land in question if the figure thus calculated had been substituted for the estimate, accepted by the Local Government under sub-section (2) of section 8, of the average increase in outturn, and (b) as regards the Damodar Canal area, which might have been realised if sub-section (6) of section 10 had not been enacted.

56. (1) If the hypothetical rate of improvement levy determined under rule 55 is higher than the rate entered in column 7 of the assessment list for the land in question, the Collector shall not allow any abatement or remission.

(2) If such hypothetical rate is lower than the rate entered in column 7 of the assessment list for the land in question, the Collector shall, subject to rule 57, allow a remission of the improvement levy at the rate of one anna per acre, calculated to the nearest anna, for every complete anna by which such hypothetical rate falls short of the rate entered in column 7 of the assessment list.

(3) If the outturn per acre, as decided by the Collector under rule 54, falls short of the estimate, as approved by the Local Government, of the average outturn, before the improvement, of land of that class, the Collector shall, subject to rule 57, allow total remission of the improvement levy.

57. (1) The Collector may allow remissions in any year up to a total of 5 per cent. of the demand for a notified area for that year.

(2) Subject to confirmation by the Commissioner he may allow further remissions up to 10 per cent. of such demand in the year.

(3) If the Collector considers it probable that remissions in excess of a total of 15 per cent. of such demand in a year will be necessary he shall report the facts to the Local Government through the Commissioner, and may allow such further remissions as may be approved by the Local Government.

58. Subject to rules 59 and 60 the Collector may allow an abatement of improvement levy in respect of any land if he is satisfied, after inquiry, that the position assigned to such land in the valuation scale is higher than is justified.

59. If the Collector considers that an abatement should be allowed because in his opinion there is an error in the valuation scale or in the estimate accepted by the Local Government under sub-section (2) of section 8, he shall submit a report to the Commissioner, who shall, if he thinks fit, refer it to the Local Government for orders, and, without an order from the Local Government, the Collector shall not allow any abatement.

60. (1) The Collector may allow abatements in any year up to a total of 2½ per cent. of the demand for a notified area for that year.

(2) Subject to confirmation by the Commissioner he may allow further abatements up to 5 per cent. of such demand in the year.

(3) If the Collector considers it probable that abatements in excess of a total of 7½ per cent. of such demand in a year will be necessary he shall report the facts to the Local Government through the Commissioner, and may allow such further abatements as may be approved by the Local Government.

61. Notice shall be given in the area concerned, as soon as possible, of—

(a) any local inquiry to be made under rule 51, or

(b) any abatements or remissions, except rebates under rule 65, that have been allowed over any considerable area.

Such notice shall be announced by beat of drum or in such other manner as the Collector may direct, in such places in the area as the Collector may think fit.

62. When an abatement or remission, other than a rebate under rule 65, has been allowed, a notice giving details of such abatement or remission, shall be served on the assessee concerned in the manner specified in rule 39, for service of a notice of demand.

63. The Collector shall not, without the prior sanction of the Local Government, grant any abatement or remission on the ground that he considers that the price of paddy, whether grain or straw, is less than that fixed by the Local Government under section 9.

Manner of collection and date of payment (section 21).

64. (1) The Collector may divide a notified area into circles for the purpose of the collection of improvement levy.

(2) He may collect the improvement levy through officers appointed for the purpose.

(3) An assessee shall pay the improvement levy, either directly or by money order, to an officer thus appointed within the area or circle where the land in respect of which the assessment is made is situated.

(4) If the assessee pays the improvement levy by money order he shall quote therein the number and date of the demand notice in respect of which the payment is made.

65. In the Damodar Canal area a rebate of half an anna in the rupee, calculated to the nearest anna, shall be allowed on the total amount payable under any notice of demand if such amount is paid in full at any time earlier than fifteen days before the date specified in rule 66.

66. (1) The date on which an assessee shall become liable under sub-section (2) of section 21 to pay interest from the date fixed in the notice of demand under rule 38 shall be for the Damodar Canal area 15th February.

(2) The rate of interest payable under the said section shall be six and a quarter per cent.

Manner of making refunds (section 22).

67. (1) If the person to whom a refund is due under section 22 applies for payment in cash, the Collector shall pay him the amount through the Treasury. If the person who has so applied does not appear to receive payment or if the person to whom such a refund is due applies for payment by money-order, the Collector shall pay him the amount by money-order after deducting the cost of such transmission.

(2) If the person to whom such a refund is due does not apply for payment the Collector may make the refund—

(a) by causing the amount to be shown as advance payment against any demand already due or likely to be due, from such person under the Act, or

(b) by money-order after deducting the cost of such transmission.

Right to supply of water (section 29).

68. In the Damodar Canal area the period within which no person shall have a right to a supply of water under the Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876, shall be from the 1st November to the 30th June.

(a) the receptacles shall be stored in a dry and well ventilated place;

(b) due precautions shall be taken to prevent unauthorized persons from having access to the carbide;

(c) notice shall be given of such storage to the District Authority and free access shall be afforded to any duly authorized person to inspect the premises where the carbide is stored and the generator, if any, is situated;

(d) where a fixed generator is used on the premises detailed instructions as to the care and use of the generator shall be kept constantly posted up in a place where they can conveniently be referred to by the generator attendant.

20. Storage buildings.—(1) Carbide of calcium shall be stored—

(a) if in quantities aggregating not more than 500 pounds—in a suitable uninhabited building at least 20 feet away from any other premises: provided that quantities not exceeding 250 pounds may be stored in a place connected with a shop at a distance not less than 10 feet from any other premises;

(2) In this Chapter, apparatus means any appliance for the manufacture of acetylene gas, including all generators and gas-holders.

28. Construction of apparatus.—(1) The apparatus shall be so constructed that lime sludge cannot gain access to any pipes intended for the passage of gas or the circulation of water

(2) The use of glass in water gauges, sight boxes, etc., shall be avoided, but where glass is absolutely necessary as part of the apparatus it shall be effectively protected against fracture.

(3) The apparatus shall be so constructed that it is not possible, even by incorrect manipulation of cocks, to seal the generating chamber hermetically.

(4) The air space in a generator shall be as small as is consistent with the proper working of the apparatus.

(5) No metal containing more than 80 per cent of copper shall be present in any portion of the apparatus including the devices for preventing the passage of oxygen into the acetylene supply pipes, the pipe lines and the other fittings, but excluding the nozzles of the blow pipes.

(6) The various parts of the apparatus shall be of adequate strength to withstand any pressures that may be generated therein.

(7) The size of the pipes carrying the gas shall be proportioned to the maximum rate of generation, so that undue back pressure from throttling may not occur.

29. Efficiency of apparatus.—The apparatus shall have an efficiency of at least 90 per cent.

30. Temperature of apparatus.—The temperature of any part of the apparatus, when working, shall not exceed 180°F.

NOTE.—The temperature may be ascertained by placing short lengths of wire, drawn from fusible metal of a suitable melting point in those parts of the apparatus in which heat is liable to be generated.

31. Pressure.—(1) The apparatus used shall not be made to work at a pressure exceeding 60 inches water column:

Provided that if it be shown to the satisfaction of the licensing authority that a higher pressure is necessary in any generating apparatus and that such higher pressure may be used without danger, the licensing authority may allow the use of higher pressure up to a maximum of 250 inches water column on the condition that the apparatus is fitted with suitable safety devices. A generator operating at a higher pressure than 60 inches water column shall have clearly marked on it the water column at which it works.

(2) In the use of the apparatus, regard shall be had to the danger of stoppage of passage of the gas and a consequent increase of pressure.

32. Precautions against escape of gas.—(1) Escape of gas from the apparatus shall be carefully guarded against.

(2) Gasholders shall be fitted with blow off pipes carried up to a suitable point in the open air.

33 Decomposition of carbide.—(1) The carbide shall be completely decomposed in the apparatus, so that the lime sludge discharged therefrom shall not be capable of generating more gas.

(2) The apparatus shall give no tarry or other heavy condensation products from the decomposition of the carbide.

34. Residue.—(1) An open tank shall be provided in the open air, for the reception of all residue from the carbide; and such residue shall remain for at least ten hours in not less than four times its bulk of water in such tank.

(2) Precautions shall be adopted for preventing any lime sludge from being discharged into the drains.

35. Attendants.—(1) No person shall have charge of an apparatus until he has been properly instructed in its management.

(2) A label or printed card giving fully detailed instructions as to the use of the apparatus shall be exhibited on or in close proximity to the apparatus. Such instructions shall not presuppose any expert knowledge on the part of the attendant.

Secy. to the Govt. of India (offg.).

RESOLUTION.

New Delhi, the 29th October 1936.

No. M.-955.—The Government of India have, for some time, had under consideration the question of devising measures for conserving the coal assets of this country by improving the methods of extraction and preventing avoidable waste. The serious extension of fires in the main coalfields has added urgency to this problem and by increasing the danger to life brought into prominence the necessity of affording greater protection to persons employed in mines.

2. Certain emergency steps have been taken with the concurrence of the Legislature for the protection of the miners, but the Government of India have reasons to think that these are not likely to prove adequate in future years. A very large amount of coal is now standing in pillars and its extraction must necessarily involve a larger degree of danger than is ordinarily attendant on the driving of galleries by which the bulk of the coal has been extracted in the past. It is also probable that losses of coal due to fires and collapses will in the future be more extensive than they have been in the past unless proper steps are taken. The Government of India have accordingly decided, as already announced in the Legislative Assembly, to appoint a Committee of experts to inquire into the methods of extracting coal underground and to report on the measures which should be taken—

(i) to secure the safety of those employed on this work, and

(ii) to prevent avoidable waste of coal.

In connection with part (i) the Committee are asked to consider specially—

(a) the dangers arising from underground fires;

(b) the dangers arising from collapses of working; and

(c) the suitability of the explosives in use, and of the methods of using and storing them.

In connection with part (ii) the Committee are asked to consider specially—

(a) the control that should be exercised over mining methods to ensure that a substantial proportion of the coal is not rendered incapable of extraction;

(b) the extent to which it is desirable and practicable to enforce the partial or complete filling of the space from which coal is removed by incombustible material; and

(c) the manner in which the cost of any action that may be recommended should be met.

3. The Committee will be constituted as follows:—

Chairman.

Mr. L. B. Burrows, C.B.E., Commissioner, Burdwan Division.

Members.

Sir Jehangir Cooverjee Coyajee, KT., I.E.S. (retired), late Professor of Political Economy and Philosophy, Andhra University.

Mr. J. Mackie, Agent, Eastern Coal Company, Limited.

Mr. H. K. Nag, Agent, Chasnala Coal Company.

Mr. N. Barraclough, Inspector of Mines.

Dr. M. S. Krishnan, A.R.C.S., D.I.C., PH.D., Geologist, Geological Survey of India.

Secretary.

Mr. M. Ikramullah, I.C.S.

The inquiry of the Committee will be limited to the coalfields in Bengal, Bihar and the Central Provinces and its headquarters will be in Calcutta. It is expected to assemble about the end of November 1936.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

India along with Burma is now treated as one producing country for the purpose of the International Agreement relating to the tea control scheme, which will remain in force till the 31st March, 1938. The Indian Tea Control Act, 1933, which was passed to give effect to this scheme, sets up one Licensing Committee for the whole of British India, including Burma, and restricts the total annual exports of tea from British India including Burma to the amount of the Indian Overseas Export Allotment for the year. But with effect from the date of separation of Burma from India, it will be necessary to have separate Licensing authorities and separate overseas export allotments for British India and Burma, on the same lines as are already provided in the case of the rubber control scheme. The present Bill is designed to give effect to that object.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 21st September, 1936:—

L. A. BILL No. 41 OF 1936.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Lac Cess Act, 1930, for a certain purpose.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Lac Cess Act, 1930, for the purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:— XXIV of 1930.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Lac Cess (Second Amendment) Act, 1936.

Amendment of section 4, Act XXIV of 1930.

2. In section 4 of the Indian Lac Cess Act, 1930, for the words "Bihar and Orissa", where they occur in clause (v) of sub-section (4) and in clauses (ii) and (v) of sub-section (5), the word "Bihar" shall be substituted. XXIV of 1930.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Clause (v) of sub-section (4) of section 4 of the Indian Lac Cess Act, 1930, as amended by the Indian Lac Cess (Amendment) Act, 1936, provides for the nomination to the Governing Body of the Indian Lac Cess Committee of two members representing the cultivators of lac to be nominated by the Government of "Bihar and Orissa". At the time when the amending Bill was introduced in the last session of the Legislative Assembly the new province of Orissa had not been constituted; but it was the intention that both members would be nominated from what is now the province of Bihar. In reply to an enquiry whether the cultivation of lac in Orissa is considered to be of sufficient importance to justify a representative from that province the Government of Orissa have agreed to the appointment of both members from Bihar for the present. An amendment of the Act is proposed for the purpose of substituting "Bihar" for "Bihar and Orissa".

2. In addition to the amendment referred to above it is also proposed to amend clauses (ii) and (v) of sub-section (5) of section 4 of the Act as it was not intended that the Government of Orissa should be represented on the Advisory Board of the Indian Lac Cess Committee.

Resolution on the Report of the Board of Revenue on the Land Revenue Administration of the Presidency for the year 1935-36.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Land Revenue.

Calcutta, the 12th November 1936.

RESOLUTION—No. 15579 L.R.

Read—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Land Revenue Administration of the Presidency for the year 1935-36.

During the year under report, except in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, weather conditions were most unfavourable to agriculture. There was an almost complete failure of crops in wide tracts of certain West Bengal districts. The situation was aggravated by exceptionally heavy local floods in August and finally by a complete absence of rain from September onwards. It was evident that scarcity and possibly famine would result. Prompt measures were taken to meet the situation by opening test relief works and by granting agricultural loans and gratuitous relief. Nine lakhs of rupees were distributed in agricultural loans and a sum of Rs. 47,262 was also allotted for gratuitous and charitable relief. As scarcity conditions were likely to extend over most of West Bengal an additional Commissioner was appointed in January 1936 to control and supervise relief operations.

Even in Eastern and Northern Bengal, where conditions were distinctly better, there were few showers in February and March and the sowing of jute and aus paddy was delayed. In Rangpur tobacco was damaged by a hail-storm, which also destroyed the crop over an area of 4 square miles in the Falakata tahsil in Jalpaiguri. In Malda the floods of August damaged the standing crops while the second rise in the Ganges and Mahananda in September partly destroyed the Kalai crop. The outturn of crops was fair in the Chittagong Division.

The material condition of the people improved somewhat in Eastern Bengal but deteriorated in Western Bengal. As a result of a vigorously organised propaganda to reduce the area under jute there was a rise in the price of the raw commodity though the greatest increase occurred at a time when the cultivators had already sold most of their stock. The increased cultivation of sugarcane caused a slump in its price. Owing to prolonged economic depression cultivators had no reserve out of which to meet the demands for rent and payment of interest on their debts. In Western and Northern Bengal especially many zamindars found themselves hard put to it to pay their Government dues. Rural banks and private money-lenders were also hampered in their activities.

The wages of both skilled and unskilled labour showed a tendency to fall. The landless middle class people with fixed incomes were, on the whole, in a slightly better position, but unemployment among the educated and semi-educated classes continued to be a serious problem. The economic condition of the people improved generally in districts which were not affected by weather conditions as in the Duars, in Tippera and Noakhali and in almost all the districts of the Dacca Division. One reassuring feature, worthy of mention, is that there is reported to be very little increase in the indebtedness of cultivators. This appears to be due in part to inability on the part of the debtors to incur fresh debts and also to an increasing desire to reduce existing debts. Attempts are also being made by them to increase their income by the cultivation of substitute crops and in other ways. The Debt Conciliation Boards which were at work all over the Chandpur subdivision and part of the Sadar subdivision in Tippera succeeded in many cases in effecting amicable and considerable reduction in the debts and satisfactory settlement between creditors and debtors.

2. The current demand of land revenue was Rs. 3,12,00,557, which showed an increase of Rs. 2,57,305 over that of the previous year, and collections were 73·54 per cent. of the total and 101·16 per cent. of the current demand. The fact that there were only 1,577 sales as against 25,262 defaults indicated the leniency with which the sale law was administered.

3. In comparison with the previous year, the cost of management of Government estates increased by Rs. 1,03,530, the percentage of cost on current demand being 9·5 against 8·5 in the previous year. A sum of Rs. 1,80,009 representing 2·5 per cent. of the current demand was spent on agricultural, sanitary and miscellaneous improvements, while a sum of Rs. 1,51,023 representing 1½ per cent. on collections from Government estates was made over to the district boards of the province for the development of roads and communications in or leading to Government estates.

4. Agricultural demonstrations were carried out in the districts of Jessore, Jalpaiguri, Bogra, Malda and Darjeeling and in the several districts of the Chittagong Division. In furtherance of the scheme to encourage Bhadralok youths to take to agriculture as a means of reducing unemployment, lands were allotted to the sixth batch of Bhadralok youths, on the completion of their training on the Faridpur Agricultural farm. In the 24-Parganas 100 bighas of land were settled with Bhadralok agriculturists. In Chittagong 76·78 acres of land has been settled with a graduate Bhadralok. In Malda about 180 bighas of land was settled with one Muhammadan graduate.

The number of schools and of pupils attending them in Government estates increased by 144 and 13,880 respectively during the year under review.

5. The year under report was the twenty-ninth year of the colonisation scheme of the Bakarganj Sunderbans. In the 24-Parganas Sunderbans (colonisation of which was in its twenty-first year) no new area was taken up for reclamation. The total sum advanced by Government for reclamation in the 24-Parganas and Bakarganj Sunderbans and the total income derived from these areas up to the end of the year under report were Rs. 32,54,808 and Rs. 46,04,118, respectively.

6. The general health of the people in the Bakarganj Sunderbans area was good; there was no material improvement, however, in their economic condition. In the 24-Parganas Sunderbans the health of the colonists was better than in the previous year. The outturn of crop was however poor due to adverse weather conditions.

7. Taking the province as a whole relations between private landlords and tenants were on the whole satisfactory, while in Government estates the relations between the khas mahal tenants and the Government tahsildari establishment continued to be satisfactory.

8. Thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board of Revenue for the efficient administration of the branches of work under the Board.

By order of the Governor in Council,

PART IV

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Council, and Bills published before introduction in that Council.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2706L.C.—18th November, 1936.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Presidency-Towns Insolvency (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1936, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Presidency-Towns Insolvency (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1936.

We, the members of the Select Committee of the Bengal Legislative Council to which the Presidency-Towns Insolvency (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1936, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 9th November, 1936, have the honour to submit this our Report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us annexed. All matter recommended to be omitted by the Select Committee has been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and all new matter recommended to be inserted has been underlined.

2. The Bill was published in English before introduction in the Calcutta Gazette of the 22nd October, 1936.

3. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered by our recommendations as to require republication.

4. The Committee met on the 10th November, 1936, and concluded its sitting on the same day.

5. The amendments recommended by us are as follows:—

Clause 3.—Sub-clause (c) has been omitted as we consider that it is advisable to retain the reference to "security" in section 77 (2). It is not the intention that the official assignee should no longer be required to furnish security. Although provision requiring such security could be included in the rules regulating his conditions of service, it seems preferable that the statutory provision for the furnishing of such security should remain, especially as its omission might give rise to some doubt as to what is actually the intention.

Clause 5.—We have added sub-section (3) in order to make it clear that the liability imposed on the Local Government by sub-section (2) to pay sums in respect of misfeasance, neglect or omission will not operate as a bar to the recovery of any such sums personally from the official assignee who was responsible.

Clause 7.—Clause 7 of the Bill provided for the omission of section 84 of the Act. Although similar provisions would be applicable to the official assignee as a Government servant or could be included in his conditions of service, the direct statutory provision is, in our opinion, preferable. We have therefore altered this clause so as to retain section 84.

Clause 9.—Sub-clause (2) (cc) is consequential on the change made in clause 3.

Minute of dissent by Mr. Narendra Kumar Basu, M.L.C.

I am sorry I cannot agree to the Report.

The principal objects of the Bill are—

(1) to appoint a salaried officer as Official Assignee,

(2) to have the appointment made by the Local Government,

(3) to divide the control of the Official Assignee's work between the Local Government and the High Court, and

(4) to transfer the unclaimed Dividend Funds and the Interest Funds to the coffers of the Local Government.

I disagree to all these proposals, and I proceed to give my reasons—

(1) Appointment of a salaried officer.—The Bill is expressly based upon the Report of the High Court Retrenchment Committee of 1923, but the circumstances have widely changed since then. About that time the commission drawn by the Official Assignee (every pice of which it must be remembered, has to be earned by work done) was very high, on account of the post-war financial crisis. The figures given in the said Report were—

1918	..	..	..	..	..	38,794
1919	..	..	..	..	..	38,650
1920	..	..	..	..	..	51,970
1921	..	..	..	..	..	50,200
1922	..	..	..	..	..	97,600

This last figure in particular drew the attention of the Committee and has presumably been the basis of all discussion since then by Government officers as well as by other Barristers. But it is forgotten that that figure was and is nowhere near the average. For the last few years the commission earned by this officer has been nowhere near that figure. The figures for the last few years are—

1932	..	..	..	..	..	28,861
1933	..	..	..	..	..	25,035
1934	..	..	..	..	..	32,525
1935	..	..	..	..	..	13,719
1936 (up to October)	..	..	..	..	..	6,430

that is an average of Rs. 1,853 per mensem much below the minimum salary recommended by the Committee.

I do not think moreover that a salaried officer of Government working during fixed office hours and having no incentive for the better realisation of assets of insolvent's estates, would be more suitable than one who has an interest in better returns.

(2) Appointment by the Local Government.—The present law is that the Official Assignee who has both Judicial and quasi-Commercial functions to discharge, is appointed by the Chief Justice. It is proposed by the Bill to vest the appointment in the Local Government "after consultation with and with the concurrence of the Chief Justice."

What is the reason for this ? The Official Assignee has to do a lot of judicial work—deciding on claims, on validity of contracts, etc.—and he must obviously be an advocate of the High Court. What chance has the Local Government got of judging of the merits of rival candidates for such a post ? They must have the concurrence of the Chief Justice who is obviously the only person fit to judge, and to my mind, the provision in the Bill is merely a crude attempt to derogate from the privileges and dignity of the Chief Justice.

Under the new constitution, moreover, the Local Government in this case will mean a Minister who may be totally ignorant of the state of things in the Bar and in Calcutta.

It has been said that the Administrator-General and the Official Trustee are appointed by the Local Government, but then these officers have no judicial functions.

(3) Dual control.—This is obviously unmeaning, and may be fraught with immense mischief. I need hardly labour the point.

(4) Transfer of the funds.—Here again there is a confusion of facts and ideas. Ever since the Act of 1909, all dividends unclaimed for 15 years have annually been credited to the Government of India under section 122 of the Act.

It is the previous fund (amounting to 37 lakhs) and its accumulated interest (amounting to another 37 lakhs) to which the glances of the Local Government are directed. But then where is the justice of the proposal ?

If the money is to be utilised for any purpose other than that of the non-claiming creditors, surely it ought to be utilised for the purposes of the High Court. Our Judges complain they are underpaid, the Court is suffering from a lack of much needed accommodation, there is a paucity of ministerial officers which retards the efficient working of the Court, there is a total absence of amenities for the public frequenting the High Court and for the lawyers—there is not a single lift in the building, for instance—and the money should if at all be utilised in improving the state of things in the High Court instead of being swallowed up in the general revenue of the province and helping to swell, say, the Police Budget.

Clause 3.—I do not agree to the suggestion of taking security from a salaried wholetime officer of Government. No Treasury Officer, no Registrar, nor the Administrator-General has to give security- why should an exception be made in this particular case ?

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL
DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2769L.C.—24th November, 1936.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Bill, 1936, to whom the Bill was recommitted with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee to whom the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Bill, 1936, was recommitted.

(References to clauses of the Bill are to be read as references to clauses of the Bill as previously reported by the Select Committee.)

We, the members of the Select Committee of the Bengal Legislative Council, to whom the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Bill, 1936, was recommitted by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 9th November, 1936, have the honour to submit this our report with the Bill as amended by us annexed.

2. The Committee met on the 14th and concluded its sittings on the 16th November, 1936.

3. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered as to require republication.

4. The further changes made in the Bill on recommitment are detailed below :—

Clause 2(5).—An alteration has been made in sub-clause (b) in view of the difficulty which may arise in determining whether a particular school or institution is "charitable" or not. The new sub-clause (aa) which we have inserted in clause 20(2) should be read in this connection.

Sub-clause (d) has been modified in order to make it clear that the banks of a tank are not excluded from the definition of "non-agricultural land."

Clause 3.—In sub-clause (a) (i) and (ii) we have reinserted the words "or any" before "non-agricultural lands" as our attention has been drawn to the fact that it may not be desirable in all cases to pass an order for estimating fair rents in respect of all non-agricultural lands in an area. It is preferable to retain the power to exclude particular classes of non-agricultural lands.

Clause 4.—In sub-clause (d) we have reduced the rate of rent which is to be taken into consideration from four per cent. to "not more than two per cent." of the market value.

Clause 6.—A reference has been corrected in sub-clause (2).

Clause 10A.—We have made an important change by inserting new clause 10A. This new clause provides for an abatement of not less than two-thirds of the difference between the previous rent and the rent specified in the roll. This abatement is to be allowed to persons to whom land has been leased for residential purposes and their successors by inheritance, provided that they are in occupation of the land for such purposes. Transferees who are in occupation of such land as tenants of the highest degree, at the time when the first order under section 3 is made in respect of the land after the commencement of the Act, are also to be entitled to the abatement.

As this principle has been adopted in respect of estates to which the provisions of clauses 9 and 10 are applicable, it seems proper that the same principle should be extended to clause 7, and that the rents specified in the roll for the tenants of the highest degree (which are to be treated as the assets) should be deemed to be reduced in the case of those tenants who would be entitled to an abatement in an estate to which the provisions of clause 9 or clause 10 are applicable. We have included sub-clause (3) in clause 10A accordingly.

Clause 20(2).—New sub-clause (aa) is consequential on the change made in clause 2(5)(b).

*Signed subject to his minute of dissent annexed.

NOTE.—The signatures of Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri, Maulvi Tamizuddin Khan, Maulvi Abul Quasem, Rai Bahadur Satyendra Kumar Das and Mr. Narendra Kumar Basu had not been received up to the time of printing the Report. Mr. W. H. Thompson and Mr. C. K. Nicholl have since resigned their seats in the Council.

Joint minute of dissent by the Hon'ble Sir Brojendra Lal Mitter, Mr. J. B. Kindersley and Mr. C. C. Hooper.

Clause 10A.—We are unable to agree that the concession given by this new clause in regard to lands leased for and used for residential purposes should be extended to transferees who had purchased or otherwise acquired the title up to the date of the first order made under section 3 of the Bill. The concession should be allowed only to those transferees who had purchased—or otherwise acquired title to the land—on or before the date of the commencement of the Act, the reason being that those who purchase or otherwise acquire after the commencement of the Act do so knowing that they will have to pay the full estimated rent.

Clause 4(d).—We are unable to accept two per cent. of the market value as a maximum limit for consideration. If a limit of this kind is to be incorporated, it should be not less than six per cent. as in the original Bill. We do not object to the omission of any limit.

Minute of dissent by Mr. S. M. Bose, M.L.C.

After careful reconsideration, I think that the transferee in occupation of the land as a tenant of the highest degree at the time when this Act is passed, and not at the time when the first order under section 3 is made (as recommended), should be granted the concession under clause 10A. The first order under section 3 may not be made till after a considerable interval of time after the Act is passed, and during this interval, there are sure to be many speculative transactions with the land. I do not consider it advisable here to depart from the salutary principle that the provisions of a statute should come into operation from the time the statute is made operative.

Minute of dissent by Babu Premhari Barma, M.L.C.

In case of lands used for residential purposes it has been proposed by clause 10A to give an abatement of not less than two-thirds of the difference between the amount of rent which was payable before the order under section 3 was made and the amount payable according to the roll by a tenant of the highest degree in respect of such land or part; but in my opinion by such abatement also there will not be any limit to the enhancement of the rent. I, therefore, suggest that a limit should be fixed for enhancing the rents of lands used for residential purposes, and my suggestion is that in such cases, the estimated rent should not be realisable by more than one hundred per cent. of the existing rent.

Minute of dissent by Babu Khetter Mohan Ray, M.L.C.

Clause 3.—I would suggest the substitution of the word "settle" in place of the word "estimate" in clause 3 and in other clauses wherever the word "estimate" occurs. The provision of estimating rents will cause a feeling of uncertainty as the rents estimated (and not finally settled) are not capable of realisation through Civil Courts. The landlords will not be able to recover the amount which they will be required to pay to Government. For these reasons I would also suggest the deletion of clause 11.

Clause 4.—There is no limit or restriction imposed on the powers of the Revenue-officers to enhance the rent. If after considering the facts mentioned in clause 4 the Revenue-officer is inclined to fix the rent much higher than that paid in the vicinity or at a percentage much higher than what has been prescribed in sub-clause (d), there is nothing in this Act to restrict him. Besides, the introduction of the method of assessment on the basis of the market value is an unpopular measure and has been denounced by many public bodies in this country and this method of assessment will, I fear, abnormally increase the rents of lands used for residential purposes. I would therefore suggest that in order that the rent of residential tenants may not be unduly harsh and oppressive, the following provisos should be added to clause 4.

Proviso 1.—Provided that in areas outside Calcutta and the districts of the 24-Parganas and Howrah the fair and equitable rent settled by the Revenue-officer in respect of lands used for residential purposes and held by tenants immediately under the Government shall in no case exceed hundred per cent. of the existing rent.

Proviso 2.—Provided further that the rent settled under this section shall not be enhanced during a period of not less than thirty years.

Proviso 3.—Provided also that in settling fair and equitable rent the Revenue-officer shall consider any oral or documentary evidence adduced by the party concerned.

Clause 10A.—The wording of this clause is not happy or comprehensive. The temporary cessation of occupation should not preclude any person from the benefit of this clause. The tenants are on occasions compelled under the stress of circumstances to let out temporarily their homesteads either in full or in part. Generally a Government officer has often to live away from home on duty. A tenant has also to stay away from home for a change of air, education of children, or in pursuance of business or for various other reasons. There are also cases where on the death of a tenant his family has been compelled to live elsewhere. Is the house to remain vacant? Municipal or union board taxes and cost of repairs shall have to be paid. The temporary letting out of the house either in part or in full should not therefore debar a tenant from claiming the benefit of clause 10A. The words "leased to any person" should be clarified. Perhaps in ninety per cent. of the cases of lands used for residential purposes the origin of the tenancy has been lost in antiquity. But the lands have been used for residential purposes from time immemorial. It will therefore be difficult—nay impossible—to prove that particular land was leased for residential purpose excepting long user.

I would therefore suggest the addition of the following explanation to clause 10A.

Explanation 1.—The temporary cessation of occupation due to letting out temporarily the homesteads either in full or in part shall not be a ground for depriving the tenant of the benefit of this section unless the tenant is permanently deprived of the occupation of the land.

Explanation 2.—"Lands leased to any person for residential purposes" include lands used for such purposes from time immemorial.

No. 2816L.C. — 30th November, 1936.— With reference to the footnote at the end of the Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Bill, 1936, on recommitment, published with notification No. 2769L.C., dated the 24th November, 1936, in Part IV of the Calcutta Gazette of the 26th November, 1936, it is hereby notified for general information that Rai Bahadur Satyendra Kumar Das, M.L.C., has subsequently signed the Report subject to the following minute of dissent.

K. ALI AFZAL,
Secy. to the Bengal Legis. Council (offg.).

Minute of dissent by Rai Bahadur Satyendra Kumar Das, M.L.C., on the Bengal Non-Agricultural Lands Assessment Bill, 1936, on recommitment.

Clause 4.—In the note of dissent, which I submitted along with the previous Report of the Select Committee on this Bill (published in Part IV of the Calcutta Gazette of the 22nd November, 1936), I discussed in some details the question whether market value of land, at least as far as the lands on which residential houses are constructed, should be a factor to determine the rent of such land and gave my considered opinion that it should not be a basis for the purpose. I still adhere to that view, but do not intend to reiterate them here. I only wish to add another objectionable feature of this clause that it does not impose any restriction on the powers of the Revenue-officer, though the percentage prescribed in sub-clause (d) has been made lower. No maximum limit up to which the Revenue-officer can enhance the existing rent has been laid down.

For all these reasons I am of opinion that the existing rent of the land and not its market value should be the basis for estimating the rent. In order that the rent of residential tenants may not be unduly harsh and oppressive, and also to afford security to their tenures, I am further of opinion that a proviso to this clause to the effect that a fair and equitable rent settled by the Revenue-officer in respect of land held by a tenant immediately under Government let out for erecting residential buildings or used for residential purposes, shall in no case exceed a certain percentage, say even up to 100 per cent. of the existing rent, should be added.

Besides, the period for which the rent settled by the Revenue-officer is to remain unvaried, should be specified in the law. This has been done in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and there is absolutely no reason why a similar provision should not be made in this Bill in order to avoid a feeling of insecurity in the minds of the tenants.

Clause 10A.—This clause has been inserted with a view to give some relief to the tenants in respect of lands leased for residential purposes by allowing an abatement according to the value specified therein, but in my opinion, the rent that would be settled would be too high, inasmuch as, it may go up from 8 times to 18 times the existing rent.

Apart from the principle laid down in this clause, there are certain other objectionable features, which are enumerated below:—

(1) In sub-clause (1), the expression "where land has been leased to any person for residential purposes" may not include lands in possession of tenants from time immemorial and used for residential purposes, the original purpose for which the tenancy was created being unknown or lost in antiquity. There are a large number of such tenancies, in which valuable structures have been built. In my opinion, the words, "or used for residential purposes" should be added after the above expression.

(2) In sub-clause (1), the expression "so long as the land or any part thereof is occupied for such purposes by such lessee, etc.," occur. It follows therefore that if a tenant lets out the house for residential purposes, he will not get the benefit of abatement under clause 10A. The tenants may on occasions be compelled under stress of pecuniary difficulties to let out their homesteads either in part or in full, or may have to live away from home for exigencies of service, for the recoupment of health, education of children and similar other reasons. There are cases where on the death of a tenant, his family has been compelled to remain elsewhere. If the house remains vacant, he shall have to pay municipal taxes or union board taxes, costs of repairs, etc. The letting out of a house for residential purpose should not therefore be a ground for depriving the tenant of the benefit of abatement. In my opinion, if the word "occupied" be changed to "possessed," the above difficulties may be obviated. It would obviously be inequitable to restrict the tenant from such reasonable acts of possession.

(3) Sub-clause (2) practically takes away the right of the tenant to transfer land leased for residential purposes by sale, gift or mortgage after the first order under section 3 is made in respect of the land after the commencement of Act, for if a tenant transfers his land after the said order under section 3, such transferee will not get the benefit of abatement. In Wari leases and similar other leases, the holdings are, according to the terms of the contract, transferable. This provision therefore nullifies the contract made with the Government. Besides such a provision will have the effect of reducing the value of the property to zero, as no person will ever come forward to purchase or take a mortgage of such land. In my opinion, in sub-clause (2), the word "occupation" should be changed to "possession" and the expression "at a time when the first order under section 3 is made in respect of the land after the commencement of this Act" should be deleted.

*The Governor General has been pleased to accord the sanction required by section 67 (2) of the Government of India Act.

(2) The Local Government shall publish in the local official Gazette notice of its intention to issue a notification under sub-section (1) at least one month before such notification is issued.

Provided that—

(i) such damming up of water shall not interfere with the carrying on of any trade or industry, and

(ii) nothing herein contained shall authorise the taking of water from any source of supply, whether belonging to a private owner or a public authority, of such amount as to curtail the supply reasonably required by those entitled to the use of such water supply.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall not authorise entry on or interference with any place of worship or ground attached thereto or any burial ground or any dwelling house or premises attached thereto or any school, factory, workshop or store or any premises used for the carrying on of any trade, business or manufacture or any garden or pleasure ground.

he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

CHAPTER II.

8. If it appears to the Local Government that the acquisition of a right of user over any land either in perpetuity or for a term of years is necessary for the purpose of field firing or artillery practice, the Local Government shall publish in the local official Gazette a notification to that effect and thereupon all the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, relating to the compulsory acquisition of land shall mutatis mutandis apply to the acquisition of such right of user and the provisions of the said Act relating to the award of compensation for land acquired thereunder shall apply to the determination of the amount of compensation to be paid for such right of user including compensation for the disturbance of enjoyment entailed by the temporary evacuation of buildings on such land when utilised for the purposes of field firing or artillery practice. 1 of 1894.

Right to compensation for damage caused by use of land for firing practice.

9. The provisions of sections 5 and 6 shall apply in respect of damage to person or property or interference with rights or privileges arising out of the use of any land for field firing or artillery practice:

Provided that no compensation shall be payable for the temporary evacuation of buildings on land over which a right of user for the purpose of field firing or artillery practice has been acquired under the provisions of section 8.

CHAPTER III.

GENERAL.

Power to make rules.

10. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make such rules as he considers necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, the Governor General in Council may make rules—

(a) to regulate the use under this Act of any land for manœuvres;

(b) to regulate the use for field firing or artillery practice of land whether so used in exercise of a right of user acquired under this Act, or otherwise;

(c) to secure the public against danger from the use of any land for field firing or artillery practice, whether by prohibiting during such use all intrusion on the land and all obstruction of such use or by requiring the evacuation of building on or in the vicinity of land so used, or otherwise; and

(d) to regulate the procedure of and define the principles to be followed by commissions appointed under this Act in assessing compensation.

(3) Any rule made under this section may provide that a breach of the rule shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

To maintain the efficiency of the Army it is necessary in India, as in every other country, to hold manœuvres and to practice firing in open country from time to time. Manœuvres take place over large areas and should preferably be held in different localities every year. Firing practice is of two kinds, either with artillery or with rifles or machine-guns. The latter may be sub-divided again into firing at targets on a rifle range, and field firing, or practice in the open country under conditions similar to those of war. Manœuvres, artillery practice and field firing, all involve some invasion of private rights and a certain amount of damage to private property, because sufficient waste land for these purposes does not exist within reach of cantonments. It follows also that, in the interests of their safety, it may be necessary to exclude the owners of the land from it for short periods during such operations.

2. At present with the co-operation of the civil authorities, the local military authorities come to an agreement with the owners of the land, and pay them compensation for any damage or inconvenience caused. In England, and in most other countries, the military authorities have statutory powers to enable them to carry out the essential operation referred to above; and a regular procedure is prescribed by law for the assessment and payment of compensation for damage and inconvenience.

3. The Indian practice is not altogether satisfactory from the point of view either of the public or of the Army, and it is felt that the time has come to regularize it by putting it on a legal basis. The object of the Bill is to secure this legal authority: and its provisions follow closely those of the Military Manœuvres Act and the Military Lands Act in England.

[As introduced in the Council of State.]

A Bill to control the Coastal Traffic of India.

WHEREAS it is expedient to encourage the development of an Indian Mercantile Marine;

AND WHEREAS for this purpose it is expedient to control unfair competition in the Coastal Traffic of India;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Control of Coastal Traffic of India Act, 1936.

(2) It extends to the whole of the coastal traffic of British India and of the continent of India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.

2. When the Governor General in Council is satisfied from a complaint, report or otherwise that unfair competition exists in the coastal traffic of British India or of the continent of India, by the lowering of the usual rates of fare or freight or by the grant of rebates or other concessions in any way whatsoever, it shall, subject to the provisions of the Government of India Act, be lawful for him to prescribe, from time to time, by rules published in the Gazette of India, the minimum rates of fare or freight between any ports in India or to prohibit by notification published in the said Gazette the grant of any rebate or concession which in his opinion amounts to unfair competition.

3. Any person who in the opinion of the Governor General in Council contravenes any such rule or prohibition shall be punished with fine which may extend to Rs. 10,000, and shall also be liable to be debarred from taking any ship into any port in India under the control of the Government of India or of any Provincial Government for such period or under such conditions as the Governor General in Council may direct.

Explanation.—A person shall include any company or association or body of individuals whether incorporated or not.

4. The Governor General in Council may, by notification, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act. In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) for the procedure for complaint against or report about unfair competition,

(b) for enquiry into such complaint or report,

(c) for the imposition of the penalty of refusal of entry of any ship into any port and for the enforcement thereof.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is intended to remove a possible impediment to the growth and development of Indian Mercantile Marine. There is no question of any discrimination between British and Indian shipping. Past experience, however, shows that a well established powerful Company engaged in coastal traffic can easily put a new venture out of action by unfair competition, e.g., rate-cutting, grant of rebates, etc. The fear of unfair competition deters Indian capital being invested in coastal shipping. If the Governor General in Council be given power to prevent such competition, the fear will be largely allayed and a new line of commercial activity may be opened out to Indians. By this Bill, power is given to the Governor General in Council, when he is satisfied that unfair competition exists, to fix minimum rates of fare and freight or to prohibit the grant of rebates or other concessions which are calculated to reduce such minimum rates. Contravention of any rule prescribed by the Governor General in Council or any direction given by him with regard to the grant of concessions is made punishable with fine or refusal of entry to an Indian port.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Trade Disputes Act was passed in 1929, originally for a period of five years, and was converted into a permanent measure in 1934. It was reviewed by the Royal Commission on Labour and was criticised in certain minor respects by two Courts of Inquiries appointed under it. The proposals contained in the Bill represent the changes which, in the light of experience gained of its working and the opinions expressed upon it, appear to be desirable. The changes of substance are discussed in the Notes on Clauses.

F. NOYCE.

SIMLA:

The 20th August, 1936.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2, sub-clause (a).—In certain areas inland steamer services are indispensable means of communication, while power plants are essentially public utility services.

Sub-clause (b).—At present "trade dispute" includes disputes between employers and workmen or between workmen and workmen. But the main provisions relating to conciliation are limited to the former class of dispute and nothing in the Act applies to disputes between employers and employers. Serious stoppages of work occur at times as a result of differences between workmen and workmen and it may be useful to enable the machinery of the Act to be used in the case of disputes between employers and employers which threaten to interfere with trade and employment.

Sub-clause (c).—With the present definition, it is arguable that discharged strikers have ceased to be workmen, and that in consequence the main provisions of the Act cease to be applicable to disputes with men so discharged. The amendment is designed to make it clear that such men are, despite their discharge, workmen for the purpose of the Act.

Clause 3.—The amendments are consequential on the amendment in clause 2 (b); the alteration in wording in the second amendment includes the case where there is more than one employer.

Clauses 4, 5 and 6.—The Railway Court of Inquiry of 1931-32 considered that the Act rendered the presence of the Chairman necessary at every sitting and recommended amendment. These amendments make it clear that the Chairman need not be present at every sitting.

Clause 7.—The amendment to sub-section (2) of section 15 is designed to make it clear that it is not necessary, to constitute an offence under the clause, for an employer to lock-out all his workmen without due notice; a partial lock-out should also be punishable.

The new sub-clause (2A) is intended to assist the Local Government to decide promptly whether their intervention under section 3, of the Act is necessary by ensuring that the threat of a stoppage is brought to their notice.

Clauses 8, 9 and 10.—The present section 16 is framed in terms which, as experience has indicated, render it of little value for the protection of the community. It is important that any measures which are necessary to protect the public against the serious injury that may be involved in a big dispute should be taken. But it has also to be recognized that those taking direct part in a dispute of this character may have genuine grievances; and it is proposed to ensure that when a strike or lock-out is declared illegal, steps will be taken to have the claims of the parties investigated. The proposed section 16 accordingly provides that any declaration of a lock-out or strike as illegal must be accompanied by the reference of the dispute to a Court of Inquiry or Board of Conciliation; and the period for which the declaration of illegality subsists is limited to two months. The changes in sections 17 and 18 are consequential.

Clause 11.—As the Royal Commission on Labour observed "the heavy artillery of the Trade Disputes Act" as it now stands is not suitable for use in the earlier stages of a dispute; but it is at these stages that conciliation can be most useful. The new section is designed to facilitate the appointment and the work of Conciliation Officers who will not be responsible, as Courts of Inquiry and Boards of Conciliation are, merely for the investigation and settlement of disputes but will be charged with the duty of preventing disputes.

6. In all engineering matters connected with the waterworks the Board shall be guided by the advice of the Chief Engineer. The Board shall afford the Chief Engineer all information he may from time to time require, and shall consider and attend to all communications received from him.

7. The Chief Engineer and the inspecting officers of the Engineering Branch of the Public Health Department may, whenever it is desirable, correspond direct with the Superintendent of the Pumping Station in regard to technical matters. Copies of all such letters shall be forwarded to the Chairman of the Board.

8. (1) An officer of the Engineering Branch, Public Health Department, shall visit the waterworks not less than once a year, and his report thereon shall be submitted to the Sanitary Board by the Chief Engineer, a copy being forwarded to the Board. The Board shall arrange for the proper inspection of the boilers and pumping machinery not less than twice a year by a qualified Machinery Inspector or firm of Machinery Inspectors who must be approved by the Chief Engineer.

9. Until all points raised in the reports of the Chief Engineer and the Machinery Inspector have been disposed of, the Board shall submit to the District Magistrate, for transmission to the Chief Engineer, a monthly progress report showing how far effect has been given to the recommendations made in the reports.

10. (1) The Board shall cause to be kept at the pumping station—

(a) a stock account in P. H. D. Form No. 4 (Appendix A), showing the daily transactions in coal and engine room stores;

It shall be the duty of the Board to see that the rules for working settling tanks and slow sand and mechanical filters in waterworks (Appendix B) are properly attended to by the Superintendent of the Pumping Station. If, owing to the design of the works, the rules cannot be conformed to, the matter shall be referred to the Chief Engineer for orders, which will thus take, in these particular matters, the place of the rules in Appendix B.

15. (1) The Board shall appoint two of their numbers in rotation to be quarterly visitors of the waterworks.

(2) It shall be the duty of these visitors to ascertain by enquiry—

(a) whether an efficient supply of water is being given;

(b) whether the Superintendent of the Pumping Station and the waterworks establishment are attending to their duties and a proper discipline is being maintained;

(c) whether the works, machinery, plant, implements, materials and all other things connected with the waterworks are being properly maintained in an efficient condition;

(d) whether these rules are being attended to in all respects; and

(e) whether any other matters in connection with the waterworks require attention.

(3) The visitors shall report in writing to the Board in meeting the result of their inspection, and a copy of their report, with a copy of any resolution that may be passed thereon by the Board, shall be sent to the Chief Engineer.

16. A visitor's book shall be kept at the pumping station in which the visitor's remarks shall be recorded.

17. An extract of the proceedings relating to the water-supply system at each meeting of the Board shall be forwarded, within a week of the date of the meeting, to the Chief Engineer, who may, if he thinks fit, and shall, if the Board so desire, submit it with his remarks to the Sanitary Board.

18. The chemical and bacteriological analysis of water from each waterworks shall be carried out in the Public Health Laboratory monthly, and as often as the Director of the Public Health Laboratory shall consider necessary, and the results of the analysis shall be communicated by him to the Chairman and shall be considered by the Board at a meeting.

But the analysis of water from the waterworks of the Board having a Public Health Laboratory may be carried out in the laboratory.

19. The Director of the Public Health Laboratory after an inspection of any waterworks by himself or any member of his staff shall forward a copy of the inspection report to the Chief Engineer.

APPENDIX B.

(See rule 14.)

Rules for working settling tanks and slow sand and mechanical filters in waterworks in Bengal.

Settling Tanks.

1. It is important that water drawn from the rivers of Bengal should have as long a settlement as possible before being passed on to slow sand filters, in order that the action of sunlight, the precipitation of suspended matter and the natural tendency to elimination of pathogenic bacteria may have their maximum purifying effect.

2. Settling tanks are worked either on (a) to continuous flow, or (b) the intermittent system. In the first system, the tanks are kept full, and the water is continually admitted at one end and drawn off from near the surface at the other. In order that this system may be properly used with slow sand filters, the unfiltered water pumps must be worked continuously throughout the 24 hours or the settling tank must be fed from a storage reservoir. When designed on the intermittent system, each tank in turn is filled and then kept full until the tanks filled before it are drawn down; the settled water is then decanted through a floating arm or similar apparatus until the tank is lowered to the lowest draw off level, when it is again filled.

The whole available storage capacity of settling tanks should always be used as far as possible. On the other hand care must be taken in tanks unprovided with fixed overflows not to fill them to a greater depth than they are designed for.

3. When a deposit of from 18 inches to 2 feet of silt has formed at the bottom, the tank should be emptied and cleansed out. This work must always be done in the dry weather and preferably at the end of October or as soon after as possible.

4. In the rains and when there is an excessive amount of suspended matter in the raw water, clarification will generally have to be assisted by the use of a coagulant. The precipitant most commonly used in Bengal waterworks is aluminoferric. This depends for its effective action upon the temporary hardness of the water. If more of the chemical is used than can be decomposed by the carbonates present, it will remain dissolved in the water and will be washed.

Generally speaking, not more than two grains of aluminoferric are required per gallon of water. Aluminoferric and sulphate of aluminum should always be ordered under a proper specification. Samples of each consignment of the precipitant should be sent to the Director of Public Health Laboratories for analysis to see if the samples conform to the specification. His advice will also be necessary from time to time as to the quantity of precipitant to be added to the water.

5. The aluminoferric must be added at the inlet end of the settling tanks. A solution of a fixed strength should be prepared and the rate of flow of the solution ascertained and regulated by experiment in cases where there is no automatic apparatus for its addition. The method of adding the salt in solid form by suspending in a basket is unsatisfactory and should not be adopted.

Slow sand filters.

6. The rate of delivery on to a sand filter is regulated by (a) the available head between the settling tanks and the inlet valve and (b) the amount the inlet valve is open.

The rate of flow through the filter depends upon (c) the resistance of the sand in the filter. In order to overcome this resistance a difference in level forms between the surface of water on the filter-bed and the water in the outlet well. This is called the filtration head. The longer the filter-bed is in operation, the greater becomes the resistance of the sand and consequently a larger filtration head is necessary to force the water through the filter.

The discharge from the outlet well to the clear water reservoir depends on (d) the amount the outlet valve is open or in the case of a telescopic outlet the extent to which the bell mouth is lowered.

It is obvious that these factors are mutually interdependent, for more water cannot flow out of a filter than is delivered on to it, nor than can make its way through the sand.

Factors (a) and (c) continually tend to vary, so (b) and (d) must also be altered from time to time in order to maintain a constant flow through the filter. In some filters the inlet is controlled by a ball valve which keeps the level of the water on the filter always the same. In this case, the flow through the filter is regulated by (d). In all filters the surface of the water on the sand should be always kept as nearly at same level as possible and filtration head regulated by the outlet valve or telescopic weir. The depth of water on the sand should not be less than 2 feet. Gauges measuring to the same datum should be fixed on the wall of the filter and in the outlet well so that the difference in level can be easily measured.

7. Filtration should be carried on continuously and as nearly as possible at the same rate, which should be between 3 or 4 inches vertical an hour. The rate of flow must on no account exceed the latter figure.

Where there is no direct method of measuring the flow of water through a filter such as an outlet gauge notch or a meter, it may be ascertained by closing the inlet valve and leaving the outlet valve open. The fall of the surface of the water in inches at the end of an hour will give the rate of flow per hour.

8. In a new filter or one recently scraped, the filtration head required will be very small but its increase will be rapid. In the usual way, a filter should be scraped when the filtration head reaches 18 inches. In certain cases it may be safe to exceed this limit, but before allowing a greater working head the advice of the Chief Engineer should be obtained.

Filters should not be scraped until it is necessary, for not only does frequent scraping increase the cost of operation but for some time after scraping the efficiency of the filters is reduced.

9. A filter must be scraped by carefully removing the slimy ooze which has formed on the top, together with about ¼ inch of sand. The sand removed may subsequently be used again if properly washed in a sand-washer. In the usual way when the depth of fine sand is reduced to 18 inches it is time to replenish the filter. Before replenishing about two or three inches of sand is to be removed, clean washed sand is then to be added until the original thickness is obtained.

10. If the water filtered has been of a very bad quality or the filter has been mismanaged, or been long in use the whole filter may require to be renewed. In such case the advice of the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, must be obtained, when full instructions as to the work required will be issued.

11. After a filter-bed has been scraped, replenished or renewed it should, if possible, be charged from below by admitting filtered water very slowly until the surface is about three inches above the sand; the filling can then be completed from above. If there is no arrangement for filling from below, the filling must be very carefully and slowly done from above.

After filling, water should be passed through the filter commencing at the rate not exceeding one inch vertical per hour and run to waste for 24 hours after scraping and 48 hours after replenishing. The rate of filtration should be increased gradually after putting the filter into use. If possible the maximum rate of flow should not be reached for four or five days. After complete renewal the filter must not be put into operation until the Director of Public Health Laboratories has analysed samples of the water and pronounced them safe.

12. Daily records must be kept in the filter-bed log book [P. H. D. Form No. 5 (Appendix A)] of the quantity of water filtered and the filtration head recorded at intervals of three hours throughout the day.

Mechanical filters.

13. For each installation of mechanical filters, rules for working must be obtained from the makers of the plant, but the following points must be attended to in all cases:—

(i) The efficiency of the plant depends upon the proper proportioning and correct addition of the coagulant. The actual amount of coagulant required depends on the design of the installation, the type of filter, the quality and hardness of the water and general local conditions. It will vary during different seasons of the year and can be best ascertained by experiment in actual working. Such experiments require scientific supervision and must be carried out under the instructions of the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, who will when necessary take the advice of the Director of Public Health Laboratories on the subject.

(ii) The precipitant generally used is sulphate of alumina and this should be purchased under a proper specification of chemical composition. The precipitant is made up into a strong solution in large vats and added to the raw water by an adjustable apparatus.

The water so treated is then allowed to settle for sufficient time to allow the formation of optimism flock.

In cases where sedimentation continues for a considerable time after the coagulant has been applied, it may be necessary to add a small additional quantity of the chemical to the water immediately before passing it to the filters.

In pressure filters if sulphate of alumina is allowed to stand in the alum pots for any length of time there is a tendency for it to deposit and clog the small pipe leading to the filter inlet. In such cases the use of crystal potash alumina is recommended. If sulphate of alumina is used it is necessary to keep the solution stirred and also to examine the alum pipes to see that the flow is taking place properly. In any properly designed installation means are provided for testing the rate of flow through the alum pipe at any time.

Aluminoferric and ammonia alum are not to be used in mechanical filters.

(iii) The rate of filtration should be kept as nearly as possible constant and must not exceed the rate for which the filters had been designed. All filters used on the gravity system are provided with automatic controllers, and these must on no account be tampered with or made to pass more water than intended.

(iv) The maximum filtration head permissible varies with different types of plant; it is usually not more than 10 feet. When the maximum head is reached, as shown by the indicator, the filter must be washed.

(v) Washing must always be done with filtered water. In the case of a battery of two or more pressure filters, they may be arranged so that one can be washed with filtered water from another. Washing must be continued until the waste water becomes quite clear. After washing, the filtered water must be run to waste for 15 minutes before connecting to the town. All valves operated during the process of washing must be opened and closed slowly.

(vi) The addition of coagulant throughout the filtering process is unnecessary. After four hours of filtration with coagulant a sufficiently impervious layer is formed on and in the upper layers of sand to stop the passage of bacteria and filtration can then be carried on for two days or more without the addition of any more alum.

(vii) Daily records must be kept in the filter log book [P. H. D. Form No. 5A (Appendix)] of the quantity of water filtered, the amount of sulphate of alumina used, the hours during which filtration has been carried on the filtration head (recorded at intervals of three hours), the length of time taken to wash each filter, and the hour at which it was washed.

DEFENCE DEPARTMENT.

New Delhi, the 28th November 1936.

Part B.

RESOLUTION.

No. 800.—The Governor-General in Council hereby makes the following rules for the regulation of admission to the Indian Military Academy by examination in India which will be held in March/April 1937:—

RULES.

1. (i) A candidate who desires to appear at the examination shall apply to be admitted to the examination before such date and in such form as the Public Service Commission may prescribe. The application shall be made through the Collector or Deputy Commissioner of the district in which his parents reside at the time of the application, or have previously resided for a period of not less than three years, or in which he has himself resided, otherwise than as a student at an educational institution only, for a like period.

(ii) In the case of Calcutta applications shall be submitted through the Commissioner of Police.

(iii) Cadets of the Prince of Wales's Royal Indian Military College, Dehra Dun, shall submit their applications through the Principal of the College.

(iv) A candidate resident in an Indian State shall submit his application through the Durbar, who will forward it to the Political Officer or Agent.

(v) No candidate shall make more than one application in respect of this examination.

(vi) A candidate shall, except in very exceptional circumstances, appear personally before the District Officer or the Political Officer or Agent who signs the attestation form.

2. A candidate must be an unmarried man and either:—

(a) a British subject of Indian domicile whose father (if alive) is a British subject or a subject of a State in India, or a British protected person of the tribal areas; or (if dead) was at the time of his death either a British subject or a subject of a State in India, or a British protected person of the tribal areas, or a person in the permanent service of the Crown or a person who had retired from that service;

(b) a Ruler or a subject of a State in India or a British protected person of the tribal areas.

Provided that in the case of a British subject the requirements of this rule may be waived by the Secretary of State in Council if he is satisfied that their observance would occasion exceptional hardship and that the candidate is so closely connected by ancestry and upbringing with His Majesty's dominions as to justify special treatment.

3. The guarantors of a candidate selected for admission to the Indian Military Academy will be required to covenant with the Secretary of State in Council that the parent or guardian of the cadet will discharge from his own personal resources all the financial obligations attaching to the training of his son or ward at the Academy, and that in the event of failure to comply with certain contingencies set forth in an Indenture relating to the completion of the course at the Indian Military Academy, and thereafter, the acceptance of a commission in the Indian Land Forces, and the period he is required to hold such a commission, he will pay the full cost which the Government of India shall have expended on the education of the cadet at the Academy. Should it be found that the declaration in regard to discharge of financial obligations at the Indian Military Academy is false in any respect, the cadet will be liable to immediate removal from the Academy.

4. The maximum number of candidates to be admitted to the examination may, in the discretion of the Governor-General in Council, be limited to such number as the Governor-General in Council may decide. If a limit is imposed and the number of candidates exceeds that limit, the Public Service Commission shall select from among the applicants those who shall be admitted to the examination and shall have regard in so doing to the suitability of the applicants for employment as commissioned officers in the Indian Army.

5. A candidate for this examination must have been born not earlier than the 2nd May 1917 and not later than the 1st May 1919.

6. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health and free from any physical defect likely to interfere with the efficient performance of the duties of a commissioned officer in the Indian Army. A candidate who, after examination by a Medical Board, is found not to satisfy these requirements will not be accepted for admission to the Academy.*

7. A candidate must satisfy the Public Service Commission that he is suitable in all respects for employment as a commissioned officer in the Indian Army.

8. The decision of the Public Service Commission as to the eligibility or otherwise of a candidate shall be final.

9. No candidate shall be admitted to the examination unless he holds a certificate of admission from the Public Service Commission.

10. Any attempt on the part of a candidate to enlist support for his application through persons of influence will disqualify him for admission to the Indian Military Academy.

11. (a) A candidate who competed in the examination held in October 1936, and failed to obtain a qualifying mark, will not be allowed to compete at the examination to be held in March/April 1937, unless he is ineligible by age to compete at any later examination.

(b) No candidate who fails to obtain a qualifying mark at this examination will be allowed to compete at the next examination unless that examination is the last at which he would be qualified by age to compete.

12. Candidates must pay the following fees:—

(i) Rs. 7-8-0 with the application form,

(ii) if accepted for admission to the examination, Rs. 50 immediately after the receipt of the certificate of admission.

(Only Treasury Receipts for these amounts will be accepted by the Public Service Commission.)

No claim for a refund of these fees will be entertained, nor will they be held in reserve for a subsequent examination.

13. (i) The examination will include the following subjects and the maximum number of marks obtainable for each subject is as follows:—

Part I.—Obligatory.

		Max. Marks.
1.	Interview and Record ...	500
2.	English Language	300
3.	General Knowledge ...	300

Part II.—Two of these subjects, and not more, must be taken:—

		Max. Marks.

(b)	Lower Mathematics ...	300
(c)	Higher Mathematics ...	300
(d)	English History from 1485 ...	300

At the end of the 2nd term the Commandant will select the cadets to form a Woolwich Wing.

14. No candidate will be admitted to the Indian Military Academy who obtains less than 175 marks for Interview and Record or less than 578 marks in the other subjects taken by him in Parts I to III (these marks being 35 per cent. in each case) or less than 1,075 marks in all the subjects taken in Parts I, II and III (these marks being 50 per cent.).

15. From the marks assigned to candidates in each subject such deduction will be made as the Public Service Commission may consider necessary in order to secure that no credit is allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

16. If a candidate's handwriting is not easily legible a deduction, which may be of considerable amount, will be made on this account from the total marks otherwise accruing to him.

ORDERED, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

NOTICE.

No. 801. A competitive examination will be held in Delhi on Monday, the 29th March, 1937, and subsequent days, for entry to the Indian Military Academy, Dehra Dun, in the term beginning on or about the 20th August 1937. The examination will be conducted by the Public Service Commission (India).

2. At this examination 15 vacancies will be offered for entry to the Indian Military Academy. The Governor-General in Council, however, reserves to himself the right to fill the last three vacancies by nomination from among those who have qualified but failed to obtain sufficient marks to secure one of the first twelve vacancies.

3. The examination will be the same for all arms of the Indian Army, i.e., Cavalry, Artillery, Signals, Engineers and Infantry. All candidates on joining the Indian Military Academy may volunteer to be considered for the technical arms, and will be given a test examination in Mathematics. Those who shew a satisfactory standard of knowledge will be formed into a Preparatory Woolwich Wing during the 1st and 2nd terms.

At the end of the 2nd term the Commandant will select the cadets to form a Woolwich Wing.

4. Candidates must have been born not earlier than the 2nd May, 1917, and not later than the 1st May, 1919, and must be unmarried and domiciled in India. These age limits can in no case be relaxed. A candidate who desires to appear at the examination is required to submit to the Public Service Commission (India), his application in the prescribed form with the necessary documents on or before the 20th December, 1936, in accordance with the instructions given on that form. Copies of the Rules and the Application Form, etc., may be obtained from the Local Government or Administration or Durbar concerned.

THE FACT THAT AN APPLICATION FORM HAS BEEN SUPPLIED, ON WHATEVER DATE, WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED AS AN EXCUSE FOR THE LATE SUBMISSION OF AN APPLICATION. CANDIDATES WHO DELAY THEIR REQUESTS FOR FORMS UNTIL A LATE DATE WILL DO SO AT THEIR OWN RISK.

5. Applications should be sent by registered post. If a candidate fails to register his application, he does so at his own risk. If a candidate desires an acknowledgment, he should also send his application "registered, acknowledgment due".

Note.—If any candidate has appeared at the examination held in October, 1936, for entry to the Indian Military Academy and the Royal Indian Navy, and, in the event of his not being successful thereat, wishes to appear at the examination to be held in March/April, 1937, he must submit his application by the prescribed date without waiting for the results of the former examination. If two sides of a triangle are unequal the greater side has the greater angle opposite to it; and the converse.

Any two sides of a triangle are together greater than the third.

Of all straight lines that can be drawn to a given straight line from a given point outside it, the perpendicular is the shortest.

When a straight line cuts two other straight lines, if—

(1) a pair of alternate angles are equal, or

(2) a pair of corresponding angles are equal, or

(3) a pair of interior angles on the same side of the cutting line are together equal to two right angles, then the straight lines are parallel; and the converse.

Straight lines which are parallel to the same straight line are parallel to one another.

The sum of the angles of a triangle is equal to two right angles; and the two corollaries thereto.

If two triangles have two angles of the one equal to two angles of the other, each to each, and also one side of the one equal to the corresponding side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

If two right-angled triangles have their hypotenuses equal and one other side of the one equal to one other side of the other, the triangles are congruent.

The opposite sides and angles of a parallelogram are equal, each diagonal bisects the parallelogram; and the diagonals bisect one another.

If there are three or more parallel straight lines and the intercepts made by them on any straight line that cuts them are equal, then the corresponding intercepts on any other straight line that cuts them are also equal.

RESOLUTION.

His Excellency the Governor in Council directs that the following documents be published:—

Instrument of Abdication of His Majesty King Edward the Eighth, King of Great Britain Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Emperor of India.

I, Edward the Eighth, of Great Britain Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas King, Emperor of India do hereby declare my irrevocable determination to renounce the Throne for myself and for my descendants, and my desire that effect should be given to this Instrument of Abdication immediately. In token whereof I have hereunto set my hand this tenth day of December nineteen hundred and thirty-six in the presence of the witnesses whose signatures are subscribed.

EDWARD, R. I.

Signed at Fort Belvedere in the presence of—

ALBERT.

HENRY.

GEORGE.

II

Message from His Majesty Edward the Eighth, of Great Britain Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas King, Emperor of India.

Fort Belvedere,
Sunningdale,
Berkshire.

After long and anxious consideration I have determined to renounce the Throne to which I succeeded on the death of my father, and I am now communicating this my final and irrevocable decision. Realising as I do the gravity of this step I can only hope that I shall have the understanding of my peoples in the decision I have taken and the reasons which have led me to take it. I will not enter now into my private feelings but I would beg that it should be remembered that the burden which constantly rests upon the shoulders of a Sovereign is so heavy that it can only be borne in circumstances different from those in which I now find myself. I conceive that I am not overlooking the duty that rests on me to place in the forefront the public interest when I declare that I am conscious that I can no longer discharge this heavy task with efficiency or with satisfaction to myself.

I have accordingly this morning executed an Instrument of Abdication in the terms following.

I, Edward the Eighth of Great Britain, Ireland, and the British Dominions beyond the Seas King, Emperor of India, do hereby declare my irrevocable determination to renounce the Throne for myself and for my descendants, and my desire that effect should be given to this Instrument of Abdication immediately. In token whereof I have hereunto set my hand this tenth day of December, nineteen hundred and thirty-six in the presence of the Witnesses whose signatures are subscribed.

EDWARD, R. I.

My execution of this Instrument has been witnessed by my three brothers Their Royal Highnesses the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent.

I deeply appreciate the spirit which has actuated the appeals which have been made to me to take a different decision and I have, before reaching my final determination, most fully pondered over them. But my mind is made up. Moreover further delay cannot but be most injurious to the peoples whom I have tried to serve as Prince of Wales and as King and whose future happiness and prosperity are the constant wish of my heart.

I take my leave of them in the confident hope that the course which I have thought it right to follow is that which is best for the stability of the Throne and Empire and the happiness of my peoples. I am deeply sensible of the consideration which they have always extended to me both before and after my accession to the Throne and which I know they will extend in full measure to my successor.

I am most anxious that there should be no delay of any kind in giving effect to the Instrument which I have executed and that all necessary steps should be taken immediately to secure that my lawful successor my brother His Royal Highness the Duke of York should ascend the Throne.
